Crash Bang Involves Three Motor Vehicles

The Joe E. Crouch family was rudely awakened Friday morning about 5 o'clock by a crash-bang. Mr. and Mrs. Crouch hurriedly slipped on something and went out to see what the trouble was. They saw a car in their nursery and a white man running around shouting that he had been shot. He was picking up his eyes and face. About this time a transport of cars came up and the driver informed the man that he had not been shot, but had been hit by a truck that had also hit him, away back, but that it did not seriously injure the transport.

Mrs. Crouch immediately called the Florida Highway Patrol and the truck was stopped in Clewiston. Some pieces of timber were sticking over the side of the truck and one piece had hit the glasses on the left hand side of the car, and the clearance lights on the transport. At last reports the man will not lose his sight. The owner of the truck is a colored junk dealer in Miami who said he felt the truck "touch" something, but did not think it was serious. We tried to get names, but the Florida Highway Patrol said it is against regulations to give out such information.

The many friends of Mrs. Lee Johnson, former resident of Lake Harbor, now living in Griggsville, Ill., will be sorry to know he has to undergo more surgery. Our thoughts and prayers are with him.

Mrs. A. B. Mathis went with Mrs. D. B. Mathis last week to West Palm Beach to take her last report to the doctor. Mrs. Winnie Plank has a terrific cold and has been quite ill at her home.

On The ...

The coffee business is booming in Belle Glade. That cold snap on Monday had all the coffee shops and drugstore counters filled with folks wanting that ever-lovin' cup of Joe.

Happy Friday—the thirtieth! After a short poll here, it was learned that people have pretty much forgotten about the old link, or they don't care any more. Just watch out for black cats and don't wander under any ladders today. We have two more 13's in good luck.

Cuba tickets are back in town or nearby. The operators left town while the heat was so intense from the county grand jury. This time only "those in the know" can purchase their numbers. Course that's politics, and we'll stay out of that.

We're just busting at the seams to reveal the name of the new high school football coach, but the Board of Education asked us to keep our trap shut until they give it the final approval. All we can say is that it's apt to be a familiar face.

Heaters at the local high school weren't working Monday just when they were needed. We heard some of the gals were sitting on them and still couldn't get them to work.

Senator Holland, our senior senator on the Potomac, must have flipped. Here's the coldest in 15 years in Florida and the senator is proposing mosquito control legislation. Somebody ought to outlaw this cold snap business.

The last straw: There were so many cold weather jokes flying around Monday that two secretaries couldn't keep track of them. Trouble is the best one we heard can't be printed. Was it a dilly!

Now, Says Fire Chief

Fire Chief L. E. Wall said this week that these cold snaps, such as the current one, is the worst time for outbreaks of fires caused by kerosene stove explosions.

Chief Wall said 99% of the fire calls at this time were or will be kerosene stove explosions.

Leaky, old heaters are the chief culprit, Chief Will said. The best way to guard against fire is to clean out and repair old heaters as far as possible.

Another rule to follow is to make sure a fire is out before leaving the home. It is not wise to allow a stove to burn while the family is out of the house.

As a further precaution against the spread of fire, the fire chief urged that premises be kept clean of trash from around homes.

After a fire is too late.

Fr. Petrie Preaches On The Holy Family

The boyhood of the Man most important for the human race is passed over by sacred history with a few brief sentences," said Father John Clarence Petrie last Sunday in his sermon at St. John the Apostle Church.

"Outwardly the little household at Nazareth was distinguished from the other homes of people in their humble station. The holy Child was raised in a devout atmosphere. In His human nature He grew in knowledge and in grace; yet His constant union with the God-head must have brought up more than one situation like that when at 12.

"He amazed the learned theologians in the temple. There can be no doubt that His spiritual development owed much to those quiet years with Mary and Joseph, just like children in homes where the love of God reigns supreme."

Discussion and demonstration.

were Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Hendry of Ft. Myers, and Mrs. Carl Hayes of Belle Glade.

Lay Readers Inducted
Inducted as lay readers for the year 1956 last Sunday at St. John the Apostle Episcopal Church were E. S. Roberts, G. E. Averill, Donald Parke, G. E. Townsend, and W. D. Matthews. They were given their licenses from the bishop by Father Petrie.

Short Course Stated For Church Users

This course is an intensive one for church users who wish to learn something of the principles, objectives and techniques of handling a congregation with special reference to the problems confronting the church user, the worshipper and the ministry of worship.

The course is being conducted by the General Extension Division of the Florida District of the Episcopal Church. Dr. Sam Kendrick, professor of worship and practical Theology, Boston University, will be in charge of instruction. Discussion and demonstration.

can contribute more effectively to the work of his church. Attention will be given to the importance of skillful ushering in the church. Special courses for new sitters, special courtesies for visitors, the congregational placement and other unusual situations will be considered. If requested, Dr. Kendrick will give individual specific assistance in ushering to local churches, ministers and churches. A fee of $2.00 for each enrollee will be charged to partially offset the expenses of the course.

The courses will be held in Coral Gables, Jan. 17-18; Miami Shores, Jan. 20-21; Fort Pierce, Jan. 22-23; Vero Beach, Jan. 24-25; and Gainesville, Jan. 26-27.

Vegetable Growers Should Not Expand In Spring Plantings

There are indications that Florida vegetable production may exceed market demand and advise caution in spring plantings. That is the word from the vegetable section of the Florida Agricultural Outlook Committee. Tomatoes, snap beans, celery and cucumbers are four items on which the group recommends following previously set production figures—a 5 percent reduction in spring plantings of tomatoes, no change in snap bean acreage, not more than last spring's celery plantings, and only a slight increase in spring cucumber plantings.

The committee says excessive amounts of any or all of these vegetables could result in below cost-of-production prices to producers. Members of the committee are: F. S. Jamison, and Stanley Rosenberg, vegetable specialists with the Agricultural Extension Service; Geoffrey David, Florida Fruit and Vegetable Association; Dr. Donald Brock, Experiment Station marketing specialist; Dr. W. E. Black, tomato committee manager, and F. B. Owens, USDA crop reporting service.

Version of the Bible. Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include the following: (389:16); "Jesus never asked if disease were acute or chronic, and he never recommended attention to laws of health, never gave drugs, never prayed to know if God were willing that a man should live. He understood man, whose Life God, to be immortal, and knew that man has no two lives, one to be destroyed and the other to be made indestructible."

TODAY'S Meditation

Read Joshua 24:14-18 or Romans 1:8-12.
As for me and my house, we will serve the Lord. (Joshua 24:15).

Shakespeare, in King Henry VIII, has one of his characters say:

"Had I not served my God with half the zeal I served my king, he would not in mine age have left me naked to mine enemies."

This quotation is true for many today. Sooner or later, some will awaken to the fact that they have enshrined in their hearts some unworthy king. The king may be love of power, pursuit of wealth, seeking after position, satisfying the lusts of the flesh. Many will come to their mature years before they realize that the king enthroned in their lives leaves them conquered by their enemies and defenseless in the presence of God.

On the other hand, the great Christian leaders and a host of other less noted and unknown persons have served their God faithfully and well. They have been living examples of the fact that "he that loatheth his life for my sake shall find it."

We make no wiser choice than to say, with Joshua: "As for me and my house, we will serve the Lord."

PRAYER
Eternal God, help us to walk in the steps of Him who can save us from the folly of unwise choices and false standards. Give us a sense of Thy presence and guidance each step of the way. In the name of our blessed Master we pray. Amen.

State Veterinary Assn. Urges Farmers To Guard Against TB Among Cattle

JACKSONVILLE—While tuberculosis in Florida cattle is at an all time low, the Florida State Veterinary Medical Association today urged farmers to continue necessary tests and precautions which keep the disease to a minimum.

Only one-tenth of one percent of Florida's livestock are infected with tuberculosis today, FSMA officials report. However, they pointed out, enough TB germs are carried in that small percentage to start a full scale epidemic if not held in check.

Practically all warm blooded animals can harbor some type of tuberculosis. And all TB types—Bovine, Avian and Human—can be easily transmitted from one animal to another.

Since most of Florida's dairy cattle are imported, the job of completely eliminating Bovine TB is especially difficult, the veterinarians say. It is particularly important, therefore, that Florida cattlemen comply with State livestock regulations.

Florida law requires annual tuberculin tests of all cattle from which milk is sold, regardless if raw or pasteurized. With out these annual tests, no Florida dairy meets the requirements for Grade A milk.

Simply because an animal has a tagged ear, the veterinarians warn, the animal is not necessarily free of tuberculosis. Bangs or any other disease. Generally the tag is for identification only.

Some cattlemen scoff Florida's rigid rules because no infected herds recently have been discovered in their area. However, cattle TB can strike like lightning. One cow with TB can infect one to 25 or more animals in less than a year's time, depending on how the animals are confined.

All diseased animals, according to Florida law, must be slaughtered and inspected immediately by Federal or State officials.

One of the hardest secrets for a man to keep is his opinion of himself.

Hi School News

By FRANCES SLOAN
13 Students Attend Clinic
Belle Glade High School was very fortunate in having 13 students chosen to represent the music departments of the school at the all state annual music clinic in Tampa. This year's clinic was held January 5 through the 8th.

The local band was represented by two of its members, Laurie Anderson, who plays clarinet, and Bobby Willis, trombone. These students, along with Bandmaster John Monroe and Mrs. Mary Anderson, left Thursday, and were proud to announce that both of these students did very well in the keen competition. The trombones were chosen from the best player, then the next best, etc. After tryouts Bobby played fourth clarinet, first section, which is very good. The clarinets were not seated this way, but Laurie also placed high in the competition. These students received an inspiration from attending the clinic that they feel they could not have received anywhere else. They both said: "I just wish more of my (band members) could have been there."

The Glee Club was also well represented this year by 11 of its members.

Those attending and their parts were: Tenors, Donald Tanner and Jimmy Dooley; Basses, J. C. Womack and Roscoe Bradstock; Sopranos, Molly Foresee, Sue Vanlandingham, Glenda Dell and Kay Young; Altos, Karin Allison, Jo Margaret Parson and Aileen Hemphill.

The choruses for this group were Mrs. E. J. Cross, Mrs. P. C. Dooley and Mrs. L. P. Parson. The club's director, Miss Marian Najarian, also accompanied the group.

They left at 2:30 Thursday and got back Sunday afternoon. Some of the numbers they did were "The Omnipotence," "Dark Water," and "Give Me a Place in the Sun."

National Guard News

Officers and enlisted men of Company E here attended classes last Sunday to orient Guardsmen with range and rifle procedure. The all-day session began at 8 p.m. at the American Legion hall.

The first classes were held at the high school football field after a brief session at the Legion hall, and they dealt with sighting and firing. Practical exercises with dummy cartridge clips helped acquaint recruits and others as well as members of the unit in actual range firing.

Special guests of the company at dinner were battalion commander Lt. Col. Oliver W. Hartwell and Major Curtis Clements. Col. Hartwell spoke to the Guardsmen about their forthcoming trip to the rifle range Jan. 25-29, urging them to take care in learning their skills.

Major Clements visited the company with regard to co-ordinating a recruiting drive. Details of the extensive drive now in motion to recruit each Guard unit to full strength were worked out with company officers.

The afternoon drill session continued rifle instruction with regard to proper adjustment and allowances in the rear sight mechanism of the M-1 rifle.

The unit is set for another all-day meeting next Sunday which will go into greater detail about range procedure.

Commanding Officer 2d Lt. John H. Cromartie also announced a special program at the Belle Glade High School Auditorium Jan. 18, sponsored by the National Guard. The program features "Tommy Scott's Hillbilly Opera" and starts at 7:30. Tickets are now on sale to the public.

Any young man between the age of 17 and 35 who wishes to join the National Guard, may obtain information each day, Monday through Friday, at the Guard office in the American Legion hall in Belle Glade. The unit met Monday night for the purpose of re-organizing the unit with regard to squads, platoons and plans were made for expansion of the unit. The anticipated expansion arises from the fact that an intensive recruiting program has been launched by Company E to bring the unit to the 100 man mark. Commanding Officer Cromartie asked each man to concentrate his efforts on recruiting more men for the unit.

Anticipated plans call for the construction of the new National Guard armory south of Belle Glade on city property across from the hospital. Building the armory at a cost in excess of $150,000 on the five-acre tract should begin early this summer.
